The information that Rare Perfume would certainly win the fifth race was carefully distributed to hosts of eager listeners. He would have won it easily had he been well ridden. Cleary was on his back. O'Leary is shockingly stupid, and, more over, he has ridden many unpleasant looking races. Hare Perfume was fourth. If any owner or trainer is truly anxious to win a race he should turn his back on O'Leary, whose combination of untrustive worthiness, carelessness and stupidity causes him to be a plague to the sport.

Spencer had four mounts yesterday and Maher. Spencer had four mounts yesterday and Maher had three. Neither was first or second on any of his mounts. Taral, Clawson, Odom and Finnegan won one race each and O'Connor won two.

PATERSON PLAYERS DEFEATED. A team of fifteen golfers from Staten Island visited the links of the North Jersey Country Club at Paterson vesterday and defeated the home team by a score of 8 to 5. The summer;

the handsome 1800 trophy cup and the championship of the North Jersey coast was celebrated a few evenings ago at Deal by a dinner given by Colonel George B. M. Harvey for the winning team, and a small company of golf club members. The dinner was given at Colonel Harvey's home, which is the final round for the Edwin Gould Cup. mer was given at Colonel Harvey's home, which was beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion, and the principal ornaments on the table were the cups and trophies the Deal Club had won. Colonel Harvey, in addition to being president of the club, is the capitaln of the team, and, while he personally did not measure clubs with the players. personally did not measure clubs with the players of any of the contesting teams, there is not a doubt that his management of the Deal players was important in achieving the victory Covers were laid for twenty, and the menu was most elaborate.
